

Wishing a Merry Christmas and a Spaceal 2023!

Many many Wishes to all the Space Renaissance Friends, Supporters and Members everywhere they are!

I wish you a serene and joyful Christmas, Hanukkah, or whatever recurrence you're going to celebrate, and a Great Spaceal 2023!

After eating and drinking during the various celebrations, take some minutes for reflection. I wish you that your mind was driven to think about the absurd yet exciting times we are living. Among the absurdities we may list the waste of money and human lives in wars aimed to conquer territories on Earth surface, instead of moving outside, in the outer space, to achieve new space and resources for every earther citizens. Also, let's think about the absurdity of a police corps that call themselves "the moral police" while raping and killing a 14 years old girl... Where is morality in rape and murder??

Among the thrilling things we may list the first orbital flight of the Space X's Starship, the first fully reusable space vehicle! We wish very much that it can happen as soon as possible, opening the way to civilian space development. Such event will be a powerful antidote against the rape of morality and the rape of the logic of language. Flying to orbit, Starship will smash and revert the perverse de-growthist slope, breaking the absurd evil spell that is smothering our civilization.

Therefore I wish Elon Musk not to be too much diverted from his most important and highest task that he assumed: to make humankind a multiplanetary species. And I also wish all the people working at Space X to have the capacity to tolerate their odd boss! 😊 We wish to have many more crazy genius visionaries!

I also want to express my best wishes to Jeff Bezos, to keep on focusing his efforts on his great plan: to relocate industrial development in the geo-lunar space. Go ahead, Jeff: no one else possesses that clarity of vision! Also, in this case, I wish Amazon's workers, to not renounce to their rights of reasonable work rhythms, yet please think that Jeff is investing all of his profits in Blue Origin! 😊 That's very much better than just bringing more money to a '900 style "greedy exploiter"!

I wish all of the brave new space entrepreneurs to see profit of their enterprises to grow up in 2023: let's get to a 1 Trillion space economy next year! It can be done, if we will trust the only really profitable horizon of development of this age: the geo-lunar space, and beyond!

And I wish all the people owning capitals to invest in the new space economy, the only segment that will earn a fantastic ROI: reusable space vehicles, moon and asteroids mining, orbital debris recover and reuse, space safety, producing fuel in space, orbital and cislunar logistics, ... a whole universe of opportunities!

I wish all the young people to aim high, and to hope in the future, the space future! Humanity needs space scientists, technicians, philosophers, politicians, artists...

Many heartfelt wishes to all the Earth Citizens, and to everybody, wishing so, to become a space settler!

Big wishes to all astronauts, cosmonauts and taikonauts! Thanks for exploring space for the benefit of all of us Earthers!
